Glossary of Terms

Commercial Interest

The IDAC defines a "commercial interest" as any proprietary entity producing health care goods or services consumed by and used on patients, with the exemption of non-profit or government organizations and non-health care related companies.

Financial relationships

Financial relationships are those relationships in which the individual benefits by receiving a salary, royalty, intellectual property rights, consulting fee, honoraria, ownership interest (e.g., stocks, stock options or other ownership interest, excluding diversified mutual funds), or other financial benefit. Financial benefits are usually associated with roles such as employment, management position, independent contractor (including contracted research), consulting, speaking and teaching, membership on advisory committees or review panels, board membership, and other activities from which remuneration is received, or expected. The IDAC considers relationships of the person involved in the Council activity to include financial relationships of a spouse/partner.

Relevant financial relationships

IDAC focuses on financial relationships with commercial interests in the 12-month period preceding the time that the individual assumes a role on the Council. IDAC has not set a minimal dollar amount for relationships to be significant. Inherent in any amount is the incentive to maintain or increase the value of the relationship. The IDAC defines "relevant" financial relationships as financial relationships in any amount occurring within the past 12 months that create a conflict of interest.

Conflict of Interest

Circumstances create a conflict of interest when an individual has an opportunity to affect products or services of a commercial interest with which he/she has a financial relationship.
